FOREWORD

New York Appeals: An Evolving Tradition .................. 631

Jessica R. Vigars

ARTICLES

Lost Profits for Breach of Contract: Would the Court of Appeals
Apply the Second Circuit’s Analysis? ....................... 637

Glen Banks

A Prevailing Party Can Still Be a “Sore” Winner on Appeal Under CPLR 5501(a)(1): Raising Alternative Arguments That Necessarily
Affect the Final Judgment to Ensure Winning on Appeal ...... 667

Joseph F. Castiglione

Pleading Fraud in New York: CPLR 3016(b)’s Heightened Pleading
Standard and Why It’s Important ......................... 685

James G. Cavoli
Matthew J. Laroche

New York State Class Actions: Make it Work—Fulfill the Promise .................................................. 711

Thomas A. Dickerson

A Practitioner’s Continued Uncertainty: Disclosure from
Nonparties ............................................. 731

David L. Ferstendig

Recent Interpretations of the CPLR by New York Appellate
Courts .................................................. 745

Barbara D. Goldberg
Richard J. Montes

The Arbitration Fairness Act: Performing Surgery with a Hatchet
Instead of a Scalpel? .................................. 769

Jyotin Hamid
Emily J. Mathieu

The Controversial Contradiction Between Traditional Precedent and
Recent Failure to Warn Jurisprudence in New York .......... 793

Dwight A. Kern
David S. Kostus
What Do Grapes and Federal Lawsuits Have in Common? Both Must Be Ripe ......................................................... 819
William Maker, Jr.

Press Freedom and Private People: The Life and Times (and Future) of Chapadeau v. Utica Observer-Dispatch .................. 841
David E. McCraw

ESSAY

Dissenting: Why Do It? .................................................. 869
Robert S. Smith

NEW YORK'S APPELLATE DIVISION

Dissent & Vindication in the Departments: An Empirical Study ... 875
Caitlina Devereaux Lewis

The First Department: An Empirical Study of the Court at the Heart of New York City .............................................. 879
Jessica R. Vigars

Quality in Numbers? The Dynamics of Decision-Making in the Second Department ...................................................... 895
Kristopher Ostrander

An Empirical Study of Dissent at the Supreme Court, Appellate Division, Third Department ........................................ 913
Christopher J. Stevens

An Empirical Study of the Vindicated Dissents of the New York Appellate Division, Fourth Department, from 2000 to 2010 ......... 931
Daniel Gross

COMMENTS

Closing the Loophole: Shea's Law and DWI Blood Draws in New York State Under Vehicle and Traffic Law § 1194(4)(a)(1) ........ 951
Daniel Gross

The Truth Behind “Final and Binding” Arbitration: A Study of Vacated Arbitration Awards in the New York Appellate Division ................................................................. 983
Monica R. Shanes

Elizabeth Trachy